

"In a world full of girls with guitars, Meghann Robinson's songwriting prowess and unforgettable vocals push her ahead of the pack, delivering true substance and dedication through her passion for music."

- Lnz Schilling – Colorado Music Buzz

"Meghann Robinson delivers the goods on "Still I Dig," an early Natalie Merchant-styled rocker that made the rounds on my "you've gotta hear this" list."

- Derek Blackmoon - Indie-music.com

"Meghann Robinson's debut EP "Drive" resembles more closely the sounds of veterans Melissa Etheridge & Natalie Merchant than the youthful, eager newcomer she is. A sensational talent with the ability to make you instantly feel like an old friend, she is a force that cannot be stopped. Lucky for her audience, as long as Robinson's driving, there doesn't seem to be a red light in sight."

- Flynn Entertainment NYC

"She may look like the girl next door, but she ROCKS with her guitar-driven, organic rock/folk sound, combined with a captivating voice and her warm, instantly magnetic persona. Meghann has become a name on the formative "women's circuit", and has performed at such well-known venues as CBGB, The Knitting Factory, Tribeca Rock Club, and many other spots ranging from colleges to local bars."

- Jed Ryan - <http://www.jedryan.com>

"I am very impressed. I work with independent musicians for a living and Meghann is like a flower in this desert."

- James T McGrath III - Disc Makers

"I had the pleasure to visit the Bitter End in New York recently with the owner of the club Mr. Paul Colby and Tommy James. You had the complete attention of the full house with your outstanding talent. The future looks very bright with you in it!"

- John Black - Radio Rep. Tommy James & The Shondells.

"Refreshing vocals and original introspective lyrics connect this Colorado folk-rocker to her audience. In a city full of girls with guitars this chick is strumming her way into New York's best acoustic venues. Her vibes...bluesy rock vocals coupled with persuasive guitar licks."
